Express Check Delivery

I request that Fidelity Investments send my distribution check via an Express Mail Delivery service. I understand that Express Mail Delivery is usually received two business days after the distribution is processed, however during heavy volume periods there may be an additional delay.

Furthermore, I authorize Fidelity Investments to deduct the sum of $15 from my account representing payment for the service. I understand that if this is a full distribution of the account the full $15 fee will be deducted from the withdrawal's net proceeds and that the $15 fee is not considered taxable income.
